What is the World Walks for Water and Sanitation?

The World Walks for Water and Sanitation is a mass global event demanding action to address the world's largest crisis - water and sanitation.

Millions of people walk great distances each day to collect water. Billions have no safe place to go to the toilet and are forced to walk into fields to defecate, risking assault and compromising their dignity. From 17-25 March 2012, thousands of people across the globe will walk together to demand political change to end this water and sanitation crisis.

Join us after the Butterfly Effect press conference on Monday to kick off The World Walks for Water and Sanitation and to raise awareness of the hundreds of thousands of people walking next week!

It will be a short walk lasting about 20 minutes so please do take the time to join us and become a part of this event!

The World Walks for Water and Sanitation is a global movement to address a global crisis –and to highlight this we would like you to come to Monday's Walk in your national traditional dress if possible!

We will be filming and photographing the walk and you might even appear in our campaign film later this month!
